

When the dirt and grime on the floor is coupled with friction from furniture, foot traffic, forklifts, etc. can cause permanent scratches and chips, giving the floors an unprofessional, unattractive and unsafe appearance.

That is why it is important to maintain and polish floors regularly, so your place will always have a nice appearance and it will be easier to keep the floor clean. This process is applicable for VTC, porcelain, concrete among others. These floors are usually placed in industrial, commercial and high traffic spaces due to their greater resistance to abrasion, water, and high traffic.

We recommend to perform stripping procedures on a required basis rather than a predetermined schedule. We know that each surface is different and need special care.
